JOIN US at Inglis BASH, our flagship fundraising event, as we celebrate our 150th anniversary and look ahead to what's next.

For 150 years, Inglis has been leading the conversation about how people with disabilities can live the lives they want. And we've put that commitment into action through accessible housing, assistive technology, employment opportunities, home modifications and specialized long-term care.

This year, we'll gather at the Please Touch Museum, near where Inglis began, for an evening of fun, inspiration, and community. We'll celebrate how far we've come, the work we're doing today, and all that's still possible.

As a BASH sponsor, you'll help Inglis keep moving forward and create more opportunities for people with disabilities to pursue the lives they want.
