

TOKYO

By Tiffany Daniels

What time is it...

Time to relax and fit in with it

You know my happy mind and not the sad...

Always skips in the chair and makes others feel glad

What can I say it's like this poetry is like a doctor for me

And yes, I wish it was better

But yet I have found something to pull the trigger

Hummm, so Tokyo right

I hear everybody there is kind and polite

Wish I had some friends from over there

Man... I miss NY... but anyway...

Let's just hope Philly develops a new form of friendly

Something I could introduce them to anyway

Hey, who said they have not been here already?

Just not in Inglis house

So, help me just show them this a cool place to be around

These people are fun and simple

Just smile and show that dimple

Sorry, nothing more....
