

In the face of art,

disability
disappears

The Festival of Disability Arts and Culture
October 18 – November 20, 2007

WILLIAM FENN
FOUNDATION

FESTIVAL OF DISABILITY A CULTURE

Independence
STARTS HERE

Independence Starts Here: A Festival of Disability Arts and Culture celebrates contemporary and classical theatrical, musical, visual, literary and multimedia art by professional and community artists with disabilities, or art that is inspired by the experience of disability.

Come be a part of these and many other events!

October 18, 7 p.m.

Festival Grand Opening

hosted by Academy Award-winning actress Marlee Matlin
Perelman Theater, Kimmel Center for Performing Arts, Philadelphia
Tickets $60, $100 • Call (215) 893-1999

FREE INGLIS EVENTS

November 6, 6-7 p.m.

Inglis House and Amaryllis present Multimedia Performance
The Playground at the Adrienne, 2030 Sansom Street, Philadelphia

Free Events at Inglis House, 2600 Belmont Ave., Philadelphia

October 18 - November 20

10 a.m. - 3 p.m.

Inglis House Art Gallery

Features inspirational visual art by Inglis House residents and other artists with disabilities

November 5

2:30 p.m.

"Visual Concert" with Curtis Institute

Join us as the worlds of music and visual imagery combine with musicians from the Curtis Institute

November 9

7 p.m.

Film Series by Shelley Barry

Award-winning South African poet and filmmaker Shelley Barry will be here in person. Q & A to follow

Visit www.independencestartshere.org for complete event listings