

February 10, 2011

COMMUNITY CALENDAR NOTICE

For more information contact:
Jorja Mathers (215) 581-0707

WHAT

Inglis at the Movies – See Disability In a New Way!

Inglis Foundation hosts a special matinee performance of two films presenting quite different perspectives on the lives of people with disabilities:

An award-winning short, filmed by Inglis House residents with Chris Ambolino of Still Dreaming Productions, about a former resident and renowned sculptor – Mental Shape: The Art of Robinson Fredenthal.

Shooting Beauty – a poignant documentary chronicling the emotional impact on a group of people with severe disabilities who learn to use cameras and video to capture their lives and inadvertently overcome prejudice in the way people view them.

The matinee is open to the public. Tickets are available for $7 at the box office and on line at www.brynmawrfilm.org.

Community members with and without disabilities are encouraged to attend.

WHEN:

1pm Saturday, March 19, 2011

WHERE:

Bryn Mawr Film Institute
824 W. Lancaster Avenue
Bryn Mawr, PA 19010
610-527-9898 or www.brynmawrfilm.org

Inglis enables people with disabilities – and those who care for them – to achieve their goals and live life to the fullest. Services include long-term care, accessible housing, an adult day program, care management and community employment.