Opening Doors Together 2024 Affordable Housing, A Human Right

June 11-12, 2024

Best Western Hotel & Conference Center, Harrisburg, PA

Inglis Self-Determination Housing of Pennsylvania believes that housing is a human right for everyone, and that all individuals with disabilities should have access to safe, affordable, and accessible housing.

This conference represents our core values; the impact we all have in creating change and assisting others, instilling dignity in those we work with and serve, and advocating for justice within the housing and disability systems. Together we can open doors, creating housing options, services, and supports that increase self-determination and inclusivity for all.

The conference aims to further our SDHP's mission of bridging the information gap between providers and connecting with others in the accessible housing community while continuing to advocate for the vulnerable populations we serve, specifically those with disabilities and seniors. The goal of the 2024 Conference is to bring together individuals to advance change and impact the way we support people in finding accessible housing solutions to gain independence and increase their quality of life.

This year includes two days of workshops and keynote speakers, a full virtual experience for remote attendees, and access to recordings of all workshops after the close of the conference. In expanding and enhancing access to these important issues, Inglis is demonstrating our commitment to serving as leaders in the field of accessible and affordable housing for people with disabilities.

Workshop Topics

- Fair housing and Housing First Model
- Homelessness Solutions
- Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Belonging
- Developing accessible, affordable housing
- Alternative housing models
- Accessibility and Disability advocacy
- Social Determinants of Health
- Landlords and Property Manager Support
- Zoning and advocating for Affordable Housing

Together with a range of stakeholders and influencers, we will intentionally bring systemic issues to the forefront of the larger conversation, share ideas and best practices, explore potential solutions, and impact powerful positive changes.

About Inglis

Inglis meets people where they are and helps remove barriers to redefine ability and independence.

Since 1877, Inglis has served adults who live with a wide range of physical and mobility disabilities and continually adapts to the evolving needs of those we serve.

Inglis supports the disability community by:

- Building new homes, modifying existing homes, and providing the supportive services for independent, accessible, and affordable housing solutions.
- Focusing on Assistive Technology, both out-of-the-box and emerging, as an incredible tool for empowerment & access.
- Setting the standard for disability-competent, person-centered care through innovative service delivery, enhanced day services, and quality-of-life programming.
- Addressing the whole person through behavioral health, employment, and other services.

Inglis Self-Determination Housing of PA

Inglis Self-Determination Housing of Pennsylvania is a statewide program of Inglis Community Services. SDHP advocates for accessible, affordable, and integrated housing opportunities for individuals with disabilities and older adults throughout the commonwealth.

We leverage our collective knowledge to connect stakeholders with information and resources to increase choice and affordability in housing for people with disabilities, so that a person's disability, or wealth, is never a barrier for accessing a home that is properly configured for their enjoyment and personal comfort.
